

To eradicate food poverty and its causes in and around Hammersmith and Fulham

People are supported before they reach crisis point

People are better able to cope in times of crisis

Local and national policies reduce the need for foodbanks

Shift to prevention and early intervention

Joined-up, holistic support across the borough

The root causes of hardship are alleviated

People have improved mental and physical well-being

Support among the public (and partners?) for ending the need for FBs increases

People with lived experience of hardship are empowered to use their voice for change

Convene local authorities and stakeholders – influence for prevention

Train referrers to embed good practice

Support development and implementation of signposting tool

Provision of emergency food and essentials

People are supported to access additional services

Spaces and activities are provided to reduce social isolation

Deliver high quality communications which share our vision

Contribute to evidence base or what works to prevent and reduce poverty

Collect feedback and stories from people with lived experience; establish new panel
